

Taking way too many medications? Getting confused why or when you should take these medications?

If you are taking 5 or more prescription medications, we can schedule you a free 15 minute appointment with one of our experienced licensed pharmacists ($60 worth of consultation fee covered by the BC government).

During this 15 minute appointment, our pharmacists can answer all the “What” “Why” and “When” about your medications. Not just these, we can also offer insights to help you understand the relationship between your medications and your health. Advise you on the direction of your pharmacological therapy. Guide you step by step to achieve the most optimal result out of your medications.

Call us for an appointment NOW and discover new ways to improve your health!!

*should you take fewer than 5 prescription medications and would like to book a consultation appointment, we can also schedule you with a $60 per 15 minute charge
